Nature's Path Foods has issued a voluntary recall involving their EnviroKidz Choco Chimps, Gorilla Munch and Jungle Munch cereals. This recall has been initiated because a specific production run of these products may contain undeclared gluten (wheat and barley). People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to gluten run the risk of a serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume this product. This product could also cause a serious autoimmune reaction to people with celiac disease if consumed.
